

Cookie Policy

This website uses cookies to store information on your computer. By using our website you accept the terms of our Cookie Policy and that you are happy for us to place cookies on your computer or mobile device.

A cookie is a small information file that is sent to your computer and is stored on your hard drive. We may use cookies to remember your email addresses or login details in order to provide you with a better service. Cookies make it easy for you to log on to and use our websites during future visits. They also allow us to:

- collect information about your computer, including, where available, your IP address, operating system and browser type;
- monitor website traffic;
- configure the content of the website for you; and
- report aggregate information to our advisors.

This is statistical data about our users' browsing actions and patterns and does not identify any individual.

If you do not want us to use cookies, you can adjust your browser settings, which will allow you to block all or some cookies. If you choose to block cookies (including essential cookies), you may not be able to access all of the features on our website. Unless you have adjusted your browser settings so that it will block cookies, our system will issue cookies when you log on to our website.

The following cookies are used on this website:

Analytics and Performance Cookies

We use Analytics and Performance cookies to collect information about how visitors use our website and are interacting with its content. We may in the future use the information collected from these cookies to compile reports and to help us improve the website. The cookies collect information in an anonymous form, including the number of visitors to the website, where visitors have come to the website from and the pages they have visited.
